Sooooo-ieee!

When a curmudgeon country doctor is faced with retirement, he finds his replacement with a little subterfuge and a lot of humor!

It's a grand collision of old ways and new, with plot twists, hilarious misunderstandings, and an odd assortment of small-town patients!

COMMODITY FUTURE TRADING COMMISSION

THE RISKS OF BUYING GOLD, SILVER & PLATINUM

SIGNS THAT A SALES PITCH MAY BE FRAUDULENT

- You are promised guaranteed returns.
- You are lured out of the blue or receive an offer via email.
- You are told only precious metals can hold their value in times of crisis or political upheaval.
- You are told that gold or silver or other metals have the potential to reach their "highest value" in a long time.
- The salesperson claims to be a "metals dealer" or "merchant" to sound more legitimate.
- You are told precious metals transactions are unregulated.
- The sales agreement does not say where the physical metal is located, or claims that it will be stored in an overseas storage facility or bank.
- The pitch claims you can make a lot of money with little risk by purchasing through a "financing agreement."

WHAT TO DO BEFORE YOU INVEST

- Run a background check at SmartCheck.gov to verify the company and person selling the investment are registered.
- Learn how the investment makes money, how it can lose money, and verify claims using independent, unbiased sources.
- Get the opinions of friends, family members and professionals you trust.
- Consider if the product meets your financial needs and risk tolerance.
